Cookie Policy

What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files placed on your computer, tablet, or smartphone when you visit our website. These files store information about your website usage and preferences. Cookies help us improve our website, provide you with a better user experience, and tailor content to your needs.

Which Cookies Do We Use?

1. Functional Cookies:
   These cookies are essential for the proper functioning of our website. They ensure that basic functions, such as navigation and access to secure areas, work correctly.

2. Analytical Cookies:
   These cookies collect anonymized data about website usage, such as visitor numbers and popular pages. This helps us improve our website.

3. Tracking and Marketing Cookies:
   These cookies are used to remember your preferences and tailor advertisements to your interests. They track your browsing behavior on our website and sometimes on other websites as well.

How Can You Manage or Delete Cookies?

Upon your first visit to our website, we ask for your consent to use cookies. You can change your cookie preferences at any time via your browser settings. Here, you can delete, block, or allow certain cookies. Please note that disabling cookies may affect the functionality of our website.

Third Parties

In some cases, we use third parties, such as Google Analytics, to track statistics. These parties may also place cookies. We ensure that your data is processed as anonymously as possible.

More Information

For more details on how we handle your data, please refer to our Privacy Statement. If you have any questions about our cookie policy, please contact us via the contact form on our website.
